Los Angeles, CA

Distance: 110 Meters

Speed: 100 Mbps Full Duplex

Purpose of Link: Charles R Drew University of Medicine and Science in Los Angeles, CA needed to connect their data center to another campus building location. Located in the heart of Los Angeles, time and money dictated that they consider options beyond a leased line from the phone company. Their desire to connect students in multiple buildings to high speed internet put them in contact with BluTec Systems who recommended a Trimble PX-P0200E100TP model.

Line of Sight between the locations was clear with careful consideration given to the mounting locations due to anticipated future tree growth
